OHIO COUNTY ON OIL BOOM

West Kentucky Oil Co. Sells Interest to Snowden Bros.

Many Other New Developments, Oil Men Coming to Hartford and All Business Increases.

The Ohio Fuel & Oil Co., has a force of civil engineers at work on their property, making surveys and plans. This Company will also start wells at an early date.

Messrs. Lawrence and others have located a well on the Steve Bennett farm, about one-half mile Southeast of Beda, and drilling will be commenced there in about two weeks.

Work is progressing on the erecting of the derrick for the well on the George Sullenger land, at Duke-hurst, and drilling should begin within ten days. This well is being put down by the firm of Henderson & Snyder, contractors, of Lawrenceville, Ill.

A large number of oil men are in town this week and many of them began preparations for securing leases.
The universal opinion among these men of experience is that Ohio county has an oil field of large dimensions, and that an immense amount of work will be done here this spring and summer.

The West Kentucky Oil Co., has sold half of their stock to Snowden Bros., and Co., of Indianapolis, Ind., and that Company will at once begin developments on a large scale.
Probably half a dozen rigs will be running at one time for this Company alone. This sale of stock will net the stockholders a nice sum of money on their investment, while still allowing them to retain interest in the new company.

The Rough River Oil & Gas Co., of this city, is preparing to have maps made of their holdings, and will also soon be in market for another well contract. This Company has about 18,000 acres of fine territory, within and around the territory purchased by Snowden Bros.
& Company.

The Hancock Clarion, of Hawes-ville, Ky., has the following to say concerning our oil development:

"The oil fever is proving a profitable excitement in Ohio county. Mr.
James Baker, formerly a citizen of this county, who recently purchased some land in Ohio county and moved to it was here Wednesday and reported that six wells had been driven near his farm, that four out of the six had proven fertile and furnished oil ranging from five to one hundred barrels a day. That those wells were driven from 1,500 to 2,200 feet deep and are within about six miles of Hartford and 3-4 of a mile of his land. When asked if they had put down a well on his place he said no, and I am not anxious for them to, as it stands now, they are paying me $91 a month to hold my lease and as long as they do this I shall be satisfied."

The Western Kentucky field is rapidly coming to the front. Within a radius of twenty miles of the new strikes in Ohio county territory is being leased. Contracts have been made for quite a number of tests, many of which will be started before the close of the month. Recent tests near Hartford maintain their initial production in a gratifying manner.
One of these wells is making 100 barrels daily in the 1,600-foot sand.
Production from this pool is now being moved through a pipe line which extends to the railroad, and the output is marketed by the land car method. One failure is credited to Ohio county, the result of a test about two miles ahead of the developed area.

Finds Bomb in Theater.

New York, April 12.—A bomb thrown on the basement steps of a moving picture theater on Fourteenth

Street late last night was discovered just in the nick of time to prevent a panic and possible disaster to 2,000 persons who crowded the theater.

A fireman, detailed to the theater, saw what he thought was a damp munch sputtering at the foot of the stairs. He found it was the end of a fuse attached to a bomb. He pinched out the sparks and summoned an agent of the bureau of combustibles who placed the machine in water, and after it was thoroughly soaked it was opened.

It was carefully constructed and contained a liquid which resembled nitroglycerine and a quantity of powder. The spectators of the moving picture show were kept in ignorance of the discovery.

Hager May Run for Congress.

Washington, April 13.—Following the visit here of S. W. Hager, applicant for the Owensboro collectorship, the report is rife that if he is not appointed to that office he may be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Second District.

Representative Stanley has not decided whether he will run for the United States Senate or will seek to succeed himself in the House.

It is impossible that the reported attitude of Judge Hager may accelerate a decision by Mr. Stanley. Judge Hager had a conference with Senator James, which it is said was of a friendly nature. Senator James is not for him for Collector but that does not appear to affect their personal relations.

Freak Chicken.

Carlisle, Ky., April 16.—Finley Burrie, of near Plum Lick, has a chicken on his farm, which was recently hatched, that has four almost perfectly formed feet and legs. The chicken appears healthy.

WILL BE ALLOWED TO FINISH TERMS

Republican Postmasters to Be
Time Expires.

Washington, April 15.—Postmaster General Burleson announced today that it was the administration's policy to continue all Republican postmasters now in office to the end of their terms, provided no charges were sustained against their efficiency. The policy applies to all classes of postmasters.

"My department will be run on business lines, and not by politics," said Mr. Burleson, in explaining the new policy. He declared that there might be some removals, but he believed that the majority of the postmasters were efficient and would not be disturbed.

"There will have to be specific charges of inefficiency, however," he added, "before any one will be removed."

Mr. Burleson said the decision had been reached after conferences with President Wilson, who favors the merit system.

At present a plan is being worked out to secure sufficient efficiency under the civil service, fourth-class postmasters having been placed under that jurisdiction on an executive order by Mr. Taft.

90, Must Pay Alimony.

Sunbury, Pa., April 15.—David Wertley, 90 years old, was before the Northumberland County Court yesterday on a charge of desertion and non-support, brought by his eighty-year-old wife.

Judge Moser sentenced him to pay the costs of the trial and $8 a month towards the support of his wife, which Wertley declined to do, going to jail instead.

After three hours in jail, however,
the aged prisoner agreed to pay.

WOMEN OPEN FIRE ON U. S. MARSHAL

Girls Take Part in Pistol Duel On Hill.

Alleged Violator of Revenue Laws
Captured in Breckinridge County.

Louisville, Ky., April 16.—The sun had just come up over the hills. Its first rays filtered through the budded boughs and began their play day on the surface of the crooked creek that wound in and out the valley below.

Five fishing lines dangled in the water. Some of them jerked. A whistle echoed through the valley. A tall man clambered off the cliff overhanging the stream. He whistled softly to himself. His big frame stooped on the edge of the creek.

On a hill one he pulled in the lines.
He whistled softly again. Once he turned his head and looked on both sides. He rebaited his lines and threw them into the ripples. The dancing blue water held his eyes. But in a minute he turned. He heard a crackle of twigs behind him.

Cat-like, the six feet and one inch of man jumped. His right hand went to his hip—but he fell. Two men were upon him in a moment. The huge frame underneath struggled to reach the long blue-steel sticking in the mud. He had dropped it when the shot hit him.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Charles T.
Nichols, of Owensboro, had shot George Barrett, who was wanted by the Government for alleged violation of the internal revenue laws. He had gone to Clifton Mills, twelve miles from Hardinsburg, in Breckinridge County, to get his man. His man was waiting for him.

When the Deputy's automatic shotgun poured its volley into the mountaineer, four persons—a man, woman and two girls—came out of a house on a hill several hundred yards away, each holding a gun.

The Deputy and a Sheriff walked up the hill with the prisoner, blood streaming from his wounds. They were greeted by the crack of Winchesters. The zing of the bullets was close enough to their ears for them to hear it. They returned the fire.

Once upon the hill, a woman walked from behind a rail fence. She leveled a thirty-eight special with her eye. She fired twice, once at the Sheriff and once at the Deputy. The shots were too close for comfort. The children pumped away with their guns, and the man behind the tree emptied his weapon. And then all four ran to the house.

Handcuffed, Barrett was taken to the station. He was examined by physicians, who found his wounds were not serious, except for one in the left eye. Deputy Marshal Nichols brought Barrett to Louisville. The man's wounds were examined at the City Hospital, and not being found serious, he was taken to the County Jail.

Clay was formerly in the United States Army.

"All of his people came from Clay County," said the Deputy Marshal.
Last night, "and I knew what kind of a man I had to deal with. He was quick as lightning with his hand, and he would have dropped me in another second."

"Deputy Internal Revenue Collector
R. M. Coleman swore to the warrant for Barrett's arrest."

"Deputy Sheriff Arthur Baird," of Breckinridge County, and I hid in a deserted house near the creek before sun-up, as we heard that Barrett always went to the creek early in the morning to run his lines."

"Closest shave I've ever had," he said.

Deputy Marshal Lewis Ryans and Dr. Louis Ellison, Government physician, took Barrett from the hospital to the jail.

"GAG" PLACED ON TREASURY CLERKS

McAdoo Issues Order, and Reverses Old Policy.

Secretary Must Approve News
Before Any Information Is Given To Public.

Washington, April 14.—Secretary McAdoo's "gag order" has been extended from the assistant secretaries of the treasury, to whom it originally applied, to every bureau and division chief of that extensive department. Nothing whatever concerning Government business there may become known until the Secretary's office has passed upon the desirability of its publication.

Surgeon General Blue, of the public Health Service, is forbidden to give out any news whatsoever of the progress of the Government's tests and investigation of Dr. F. F. Fried-mann's tuberculosis vaccine, or to warn the public of danger of disease or of epidemics; the life-saving service is forbidden to make known new of a vessel in distress or of measures taken for the relief of an endangered crew. The revenue cutter service is forbidden to send public warnings of dire straits in the path of navigation, or give the news of sending one of its ships to a distressed vessel.

All such information now is sent first to the assistant secretary in charge of the division or bureau in which it originates and then to Secretary McAdoo's office, where it is made public or suppressed. The Treasury is the only department of the Government in Washington where a "gag order" has been issued.

Secretary McAdoo's new policy is a complete reversal of that of former Secretary MacVeagh, who instructed his subordinates to give out news of the public business with accuracy and dispatch except where it would defeat the ends of justice or in case of the determination of important policies.

The internal revenue as well as the customs service may be completely reorganized by Secretary McAdoo.
Many internal revenue collectors have resigned and others are asking when their successors will be appointed.
The reorganization is likely to begin as soon as Col. W. H. Osborne, of Greensboro, N. C., becomes Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Secretary McAdoo is studying customs conditions at various ports with the evident purpose of pursuing his newly announced policy of injecting "new blood" into the service or displacing officials not in accord with Democratic principles.

Announces Candidacy for County Judge.

Editors Hartford Republican.

I wish through the columns of your paper to announce myself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of County Judge, and in doing so I wish to say to the voters and tax payers of the county, eight years I have tried as best I that as a Magistrate for the last could to see that their money was put to the best use. And if it is the pleasure of the Republican party to make me their candidate, and the pleasure of the voters to make me their county judge for the next four years, I shall give to them all the ability and energy there is in me to discharge the duties of the office with credit to myself and to better the conditions of the affairs of the county. Having had the advantage of eight years of experience as Magistrate, I think should make me better qualified to administer the affairs of the county than one with less or no experience. When one has anything else to do, he has to make a sacrifice to serve as Magistrate. I have made this sacrifice solely to see if the conditions of our roads could not be made better with the same money that was being expended under the old system of working roads.
How well I have succeeded is before the people. Of course I have had the co-operation of the whole Fiscal Court and do not claim the whole credit, but have done everything that I could with the money we had to spend to improve the condition of our roads and all other matters relating to the fiscal affairs of the county, and I think as County Judge I could improve on what has been done.

It will be impossible for me to make a thorough canvass of the county for the nomination and would like to ask each voter to carefully consider the matter as the office of County Judge is a very important one to the tax payers, and select one who you think best qualified, and one who will use all of their energy and ability to use the money put into his hands by the tax payers to improve the conditions of the fiscal affairs of the county, and then go to the poles on the 2d of August and express that choice by casting your vote for the one that you think best qualified to fill the office if elected at the November election.

Respectfully,
J. T. MILES.

Titantic Tower Dedicated.

New York, April 15.—Today, the anniversary of the sinking of the Titantic, men prominent in church, business and shipping circles gathered at the Seamen's church institute on the lower water front to dedicate the Titantic Memorial lighthouse tower, erected to the memory of the men and women who went down with the ship. It stands on the corner of the institute building overlooking the harbor, and will have a range of twelve miles. It will be chartered by the government, and a time ball will drop on the flagstaff at noon daily for the convenience of masters in adjusting ships' chronometers.

The dedication ceremonies consisted of brief addresses by Bishop David H. Greer and others.

BRICK BEING LAID FOR COLLEGE BUILDING

Many Out of Town Students in School Here—Election
of Teachers.

The excavation for the new collee building on the old Hartford College site has been completed and on Tuesday the first brick was laid. Quite a force of men are employed and the work is progressing rapidly. The original plan has been changed by the substitution of pressed brick in the construction of the front of the building and all trimmings will be of first quality Bedford limestone.
This change will add much to the appearance of the building.

The contract has been let for the installation of a steam heating plant.
The building will be completed by August 15. When finished and equipped this will be not only one of the handsomest school buildings in Western Kentucky but also one of the most up-to-date in every particular.

At a meeting of the Board of Education Wednesday morning Professors H. E. Brown and A. E. Ellis were re-elected to their positions. Prof. Ray-mer Tinsley was elected to succeed
Miss Winona Stevens in the High School Faculty. The following teachers were selected for the grades: Seventh and Eighth, W. Fred Anderson; Fifth and Sixth, Mrs. Annie E. Foster; Third and Fourth, Miss Hattie Glan; First and Second, Miss Mary Marks.

The present year has been one of the most successful of the history of the school. Notwithstanding the many disadvantages resulting from the loss of the college building and the prevalence of contagious diseases in Hartford and surrounding country. About fifty pupils from outside the town have been enrolled without advertising and without special effort being made.

The faithful work of the School Board and Faculty has made this splendid showing possible. Handsome catalogues will soon be issued and with new buildings and equipments a new era will begin for this already flourishing institution.

In anticipation of additional attendance the salaries of the High School teachers have been raised.
In compliance with the requirements of the present High School law, arrangements have been made for the county to pay the tuition of the common school graduates instead of employing a High School teacher as heretofore.

CONVICTS APPLY TORCH TO PEN

Spread Burning Paper When Flames Start In Prison.

Number of Prisoners Aid In Fighting Blaze And Six
Are Burned.

Lansing, Kan., April 14.—Fire that destroyed four large business buildings and caused a loss estimated at $300,000, in the Kansas penitentiary Saturday, was spread by convicts who scattered burning papers in buildings not in the path of the flames, according to a statement by Fire Chief Michael Bahler, of Leavenworth.
His opinion was confirmed by some of the prison officers.

The fire started when the arma-ture of a motor in the twine plant suddenly burst into flames which communicated to walls and floors.
Half an inch of oily paint over the floors made the building burn like paper. The burned buildings re as total loss, as the State carries no insurance on its structures.

"Several prisoners told me of seeing other convicts lighting bunches of papers in the old building known as the furniture factory," said Chief Bahler. "When I reached the prison, the fire was confined to the twine factory."

"I inspected other buildings, including the furniture factory. Later, we saw flames bursting from the second story windows of the old factory.
We found that fires started inside the building on the first floor, one of them in a room at least 300 feet from the burning twine plant. These could have been started only from the inside."

Warden J. K. Coddling said he believed it probable that convicts had fed the flames.

Prison officers made every preparation for mutiny, and Lansing and Leavenworth were thrown into excitement, fearing an outbreak; but the convicts preserved the best of order, hundreds of them assisting in fighting the flames.

Their efforts were responsible for saving the building occupied by women prisoners and the criminally insane. Believing this building doomed, the women were taken out and the insane convicts transferred to the cellhouse. The building was only slightly damaged.

The scene of the greatest excitement was in the insane ward, which is 150 feet from the twine plant. The flames seemed to cause panic to every inmate. There were fifty insane convicts.

Excited by the sight of the flames, the prisoners screamed, and, with clenched hands beat on the iron bars of their rooms.

The manacles set up such a commotion that Warden Coddling was forced to move them to another part of the prison. This removal was accomplished with the greatest difficulty, many of the prisoners having to be dragged out by their guards. A number of patients fought their rescuers.

Six prisoners and one guard were burned slightly during the fire. Frank Riley, twenty-two years old, serving fifteen years for burglary, was carrying a hose into the twine plant when driven back by the flames. His face was scorched.

Six hundred convicts, who were at their duties about the prison yard when the fire started, were not locked up, but called to aid in fighting flames. A dozen prisoners in the boiler rooms of the power house, stayed at their tasks, keeping up steam for the pumps to aid the fire fighters.

The prison's one ancient fire engine was out of commission and the pressure pumps of the water system had to be relied upon.

improved today.

GUARD TOBACCO BEDS WITH SHOT GUNS

Farmers Banded Together to Protect Property and Catch Evil Doers.

The destruction of beds in the Barren and Anthoston sections last Tuesday night, the banding together of farmers to maintain watch at night over plant beds, and the announcement that many farmers in several sections of the county had divided themselves into squads in an attempt to capture the invaders and secure the $1,000 reward offered for their conviction, are the developments in the tobacco situation, says the Henderson Gleaner.

The Gleaner's correspondent at Ashcroft stated Wednesday night that beds had been sown with grass seed on the farms of George Cheatham, Thomas Enoch, William Green, Floyd Edwards, Lee Baskett and A. H. Harding. Most of the farmers have been heard to make statement that they would not replant their beds, saying they believe the agency at work is too powerful to oppose and that any effort to raise a crop this year would be a waste of energy. On the other hand comes the report from Hebbardsville that probably half of the farmers in that section are making arrangements to replant their beds and will guard them with their lives.

The bed of Sam Brooks, of the Barren country, was visited Tuesday night. Brooks planted his bed Tuesday afternoon and found Wednesday morning that his work has been to no avail. Robert Jordan's plant bed near Anthoston was also destroyed Tuesday night.

From several sections of the county come the report that farmers whose beds have not been visited, intend to keep out the depredators. Farmers living in the same neighborhood have entered into an agreement to alternate on the watch going on at 6 o'clock at night and guarding the beds with guns flung across their shoulders until 6 o'clock the next morning. In many neighborhoods several growers burned their beds in the same woods and farmers who have done this are the ones who have banded together to maintain a vigil.

It will be five or six weeks before it will be time to draw the plants from the beds and plant them in the fields but the farmers will stand guard during all this time.

J. Stokes Taylor, general manager of the Henderson county pool, who has offered a reward of $1,000 for conviction of the guilty party or parties, told the Gleaner yesterday that growers in different parts of the county had organized into squads to apprehend the depredators and will divide the reward should the parties be caught and convicted.

Lee Eakins and other prominent tobacco growers of the Robards section were in the city Wednesday consulting attorneys in regard to the steps to be taken to run to earth those guilty of sowing tobacco plant beds with grass seed.

They received advice which they refused to divulge, but stated they would make it uncomfortable for plant bed depredators.

For generations it has been a custom for candidates for county offices to make a personal canvass of the rural districts, remaining overnight at homes where evening overtook them. In this way the voter and the candidate get better acquainted. But in this custom the candidate has the advantage, standing, as he does, a chance to gain the votes in these homes, while the voter is minus supper and breakfast, and is compelled to listen to the candidate extol his own virtues by devious subterfuges. Now, all things else are changing, so we believe it is time there was a reverse in this custom.

So we suggest that from now on all candidates be compelled to remain at home, while the voters do the canvassing, to seek out the better men for the respective offices.

Let the candidates remain at home at night and entertain the voters, one at a time, or in bunches. Through this order of things the voters may have the opportunity to study the candidate as he is, in his own home, where men must be seen to be properly judged.

Agricultural Extension.

At this season of the year the Experiment Station receives a large number of inquiries in regard to the difficulty of churning cream into butter. The inquirers complain that they churn their cream for a considerable period of time but that the butter will not "come".

This difficulty may be due to several reasons, which may be enumerated as follows:

At this time of the year and particularly a little earlier than this, there is no green feed which may be fed to the cows, except silage. The dry feed causes the butter fat to assume a hard, white condition. The fat occurs in the cream in the form of little globules or balls. It is necessary that these little globules shall stick together in large masses to form particles of butter. When the cows are on dry feed these little particles become hard and will not stick together. A ration composed of corn meal, cotton seed meal, corn stover and dry hay is particularly calculated to cause a hard condition of the fat. Silage will help to some extent in reducing the hardness. Linseed meal also tends to cause a softer fat.

When the cows get on grass in the spring the difficulty of churning is soon eliminated because the green grass softens the fat.

One of the most frequent causes of long churning is a thinness of the cream. The cream should be rich in order that the globules may be brought close together and the butter gathered readily. In the summer the cream may frequently be churned at a temperature of 55 degrees F., but in the winter we find at the Experiment Station that it is necessary to churn the cream at a temperature of about 62 degrees. A higher temperature serves to soften the fat and causes it to churn more quickly. Thirty per cent cream which has been carefully held at a temperature of 75 degrees for twenty-four hours will glisten and be ready for churning. The ripening will help materially in decreasing the length of time required to churn the cream, also this ripening gives the butter a delightfully mild acid flavor. The ripening in addition causes all the butter to churn out of the cream and therefore there is very little loss of butter in the resulting butter milk.

Cold cream often foams and will not churn. Two hours before cream is to be churned the temperature should be reduced from 75 degrees F. to 62 degrees F. It requires this length of time for the butter fat to become cooled throughout.

Difficult churning is sometimes caused by the fact that the cream becomes contaminated with undesirable bacteria that prevent the growth of the desirable kind of lactic acid bacteria. Therefore it is highly advisable to carefully wash and scald the milk utensils after using them.

LOYALTY REWARDED THE REBEL DOOMED

Two Examples Given Us In the Past, Says Pastor Russell.

Precept Illustrated by Example—God's Great Lessons For Men and For Angels—Satan and Christ—The Great Rebel and His Failure—God's Loyal Son and His Victory—Both Are Held Up to Us For Examples—One Pictures What God Hates; the Other Pictures What God Approves—The Penalty Upon the One Illustrates God's Provision For All of His Disposition—The Reward of the Other Illustrates God's Love and Blessing Toward All the Followers of Jesus.

Toledo, Ohio, April 13.—Pastor Russell is here today, addressing Bible students. We report one of his addresses, from the text: "I humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that He may exalt you in due time."—1 Peter 5:6.

The Pastor declared that the Bible everywhere holds up the Lord Jesus Christ as the glorious Pattern of what is most pleasing to the Heavenly Father, to be copied by all desiring God's favor. He reminded his hearers that certain steps are necessary before any can come into that favor, and properly be called God's children. Both our Lord and His Apostles make this point very clear.

Very few have God's favor at the present time, said the Pastor. In God's due time, however, all shall be brought to a knowledge of Messiah, and privileged through Him to enjoy everlasting life. But what is coming and what is here are two different things. No one has authority to make the Narrow Way a Broad Way, or to say that many will find it, when the Scriptures declare, "Few there be that find it."

The Pastor showed clearly that his text related only to the consecrated few who, during this Age, heard and accepted the invitation to become footstep followers of Jesus. These have their sins forgiven as a result of faith in the precious blood of Christ, and of consecration to do God's will. These have the Redeemer as their Advocate.

To These Our Text Applies. These are exhorted to come boldly to the Throne of Heavenly Grace, to obtain mercy and to find grace to help in every time of need. These may know that their prayers are always heard. The exhortations of the Apostles are to these alone—not to the world.

In our context, the Apostle holds up the Lord Jesus as the great Pattern of humility. St. Paul tells us that our Lord was rich, yet in obedience to the Father's will He laid aside His riches and became poor. He divested Himself of His spirit conditions and took instead human conditions.

From being above angels, He willingly took a nature and place "a little lower than angels." He did this, knowing that it was only a preliminary step, and that others of self-denial and suffering would follow. A man—Adam—had sinned, and had involved a race in his death sentence. Only an uncondemned man could redeem him. It was for this purpose that Jesus left His glory, and was "found in fashion as a man." He was holy, harmless, undefiled. Otherwise, He could not have been the Redeemer.

At thirty years of age, our Lord went forth, declaring the Message which He knew would be misunderstood—the Message that He was the Son of God, and that as the result of His sacrifice, the Millennial Kingdom would come, which would bless all the families of the earth. The Jews were not ready for that Message. As the Scriptures foretold, they crucified Him—ignorantly.—1 Corinthians 2:8.

The Rewards of Humility and Loyalty. According to St. Paul, the Father set before our Lord a joy as a reward for His sacrifice. The details of that joy we may infer to be: (1) The joy of the Father's smile of approval. (2) The joy of bringing many sons to glory. (3) The joy of restoring mankind to their original perfection. (4) The joy of an exaltation to a still higher station than His former one. See Hebrews 12:1-3.

The Privilege of Service.

He who blesses most is best and God and man shall own his worth. He who truly serves is not a menial, is not a bondsman for his service alone makes him free and makes him noble and even exalts him to the rank of royalty. Free service is prompted by an unselfish heart and has love for its motive power. He who serves otherwise is ignoble and base. No greater gift is given to man. Man, the privilege of truly serving and administering to others, it is the only way in which humanity's greatest debts are paid, for money does not pass current in the real world of service. And there is a pleasure in such service, for man has found his only hope of happiness comes from this source. The surest pay one can have when he sees the needs, the distress and suffering of his fellow man, is in knowing he can be of service. Knowing that he can bind a broken heart, lessen the burden of the weary one, and make brighter and easier the way of the tired and weary pilgrim and that with ready hand and open heart, he can nobly and wisely serve his loved ones, his friends, and his neighbors from the least unto the greatest.

So if one finds pleasure in doing a small act for a fellow being, then infinitely greater must be the joy in doing service for our Lord and King. In the dark days of the revolution Washington with his soldiers paid the price in winter's untold suffering and hardships. The gallant heroes in the strife of the sixties paid it with life, with wrecked homes and fortunes. Yet true and constant service may mean a continued service but it has its rewards. Martyrs, Soldiers, Statesmen and all who serve well have their reward in the price and happiness that are sure to follow. Such service then we count a glorious privilege to render. A universal privilege, for indeed none is excluded from showing it, except he who excludes himself.

To all things, even the plants from the tiniest flowers that bloom unseen, to the greatest oak of the forest. To all creatures from the worm that grovels in the dust to him that was made in the image of the maker it is given to serve each other and to serve the Creator, but to mere man alone it is given to serve with reason and purpose.

It has been said that we become a part of all we meet. Then if in no other way we can serve our friends and companions by living lives of love, purity and Godliness; lives of nobleness, lives with high aims and ambitions, keeping before us the highest standard and fashioning our conduct after the one perfect pattern. One does not need to possess silver or gold, one does not need social rank in life, that he may thus serve. We might enumerate the various ways of serving, service in the home, to the community, to the country and to God. Yet a kindness here, a service there. A deed of love today, a word of patience tomorrow, all like the rivulet and streams, that go to make the mighty river, flowing on to the boundless ocean. All join to make one noble and harmonious life of praise, and service to him who made and loveth all things both great and small, and if we have served well in the little way, as opportunity was given us, so have we served well our God.

How often we abuse the privilege of service by not doing our best, or by not giving the full measure of our capacity, for doing unto others a half-way service is worse than no service at all. God demands the best we have, he demands the whole soul, a whole hearted and constant service. History records the names of those who closed their day in renounce for having lost their privilege. Threw it away or sold it for a low price. For a small sum of gold, the dumper sold out to the enemy, thus proving a traitor to the cause they represented. They not only lost the privilege of serving their country but died in shame and disgrace out of the local, unhonored and unloved. Then let us remember that what ever has been given us, whether it be physical strength or mental ability, whether it be power of hand head or heart, whether we possess of this world's goods in every sense it is a call for service. For we are told by the great teacher "To whomsoever much is given of him much shall be required."

The Man of the Hour. You may sing of the man with the hoe, Of the hero behind the gun, You may valor of valiant knights Who have hundreds of battles won; You may weep of the martyred saint, Or the poet who rules the pen; But who on earth Can compute the worth Of the fellow who feeds the hen? —Josephine Page Wright in Farm and Home.

REPUBLICANS MEET IN GRAYSON COUNTY

Resolutions Were Adopted And Two Factions May Get Together in That County.

The Republican Executive Committee of Grayson county met in Hill's Hall, Monday, April 7th, with a full attendance, manifesting much enthusiasm. Quite a number of Progressives were present and participated in speech-making, all tending toward union in nominating a county ticket.

A committee on resolutions consisting of Dr. C. L. Sherman, Tom Spurrier, H. E. James, Z. T. Proctor and Yeaman Watkins reported the following resolutions which were adopted:

Resolved, That we reaffirm our allegiance to the principles of the Republican party enunciated in the State Convention which nominated the Hon. Ed C. O'Rear for Governor of Kentucky, and we pledge our hearty support to the nominees of any coalition movement that may be effected with the Progressive party.

That we favor any honorable union with the Progressive party and a fair and equitable division of the county officers to be selected in the August primary, retaining the regular party emblem.

We realize and appreciate the sincerity and honesty of purpose of those who voted for Mr. Roosevelt as well as of those who voted for Mr. Taft, but the time has come when all past differences should be buried and that we reunite to fight the common enemy.

A further resolution was unanimously adopted that a mass meeting of the Republicans of Grayson county together with the Executive Committee of the same be called to meet at the Court House in the city of Letchfield, on Monday, April 27, 1913, and that the Progressive committee and all members of said party be invited to meet jointly at said time and place for the purpose of agreeing on a plan of action relative to the county offices.

Protection in Germany.

As a principle, protection is about to be placed on trial in the Congress of the United States, with a party in control that muddled the question absurdly and disastrously nineteen years ago. A battle of this kind was fought in Germany in 1879, with Bismarck to lead the protectionist movement, and to shape the new policy established then and in full operation now. Bismarck's declared object was to increase the Government revenue and encourage native industries. He said he was not influenced by abstract theories, for which he cared little, but by his own observation of facts. Referring to free-trade doctrine, he declared that he was unwilling Germany should continue to be "the dupe of an amiable error," and a "dumping ground for the overproduction of other countries." He asked for Germany "the same market which we are now good-naturedly allowing foreigners to exploit," and asserted that England had adopted free trade only after its own industries had been so developed by protection that they were able to outstrip all others in the world.

That was thirty-four years ago, and what Germany has become industrially and commercially in the last third of a century is a wonderful example of expansion. It was Bismarck's contention that Germany could become rich only through the fostering of manufactures, the preservation of the home market and the widening of foreign trade. The policy of offering tariff concessions to other countries for mutual advantage was set in motion and has been adopted by numerous other nations. There is no free-trade party worth mentioning in Germany. But one is about to go to work in the United States to dismantle protection, on a platform declaring that it is even unconstitutional. Existing conditions industrially, apart from this menace, are those of high prosperity. Will the party in control produce another muddle, a hybrid neither free trade nor protection, a failure so ridiculous and harmful that it will be smothered by a new House is elected next year? The stage is set for just such a repetition.

Don'ts.

- Don't sprinkle salt on the tail of temptation.
- Don't try to get the better of a man who hasn't any.
- Don't snore in church. It's mean of you to keep others awake.
- Don't be satisfied to pay as you go. Save enough to get back.
- Don't get married with the sole idea that misery loves company.
- Don't follow the beaten track unless you are satisfied to remain beaten.
- Don't accept advice from any man who never offers you nothing else.
- Don't expect Opportunity to come to you with a letter of introduction.
- Don't trust to luck. Nine tenths of the people in the world guess wrong.
- Don't buy your friends. They never last as long as those you make yourself.
- Don't envy the rise of others. Many a man who gets to the top is mere froth.
- Don't greet Misfortune with a smile unless you are prepared for a one-sided flirtation.
- Don't make good resolutions unless you constantly carry a repair kit with you.
- Don't place too much confidence in appearances. Many a man with a red is white all the way through.
- Don't fall to have an object in view. Many a man leads an aimless existence that he could fire at random without hitting it.—Lippincott's.

FRIDAY, APRIL 18.

The present game law was made to help the city game clubs and to create a few more offices.

The State Board of Equalization has increased the tax assessment of Ohio county on farm lands and town lots 5 per cent.

Both State, county and town tax rates can and should be lowered. The people are not able to pay the amount of taxes assessed every year.

Boss Wilson is running Congress with a high hand. No President has ever been so open in his determination to control all legislation.

Following the lead of the Ohio county platform adopted by Republicans and Progressives, the Courier-Journal and Times are advocating the abolishment of the Jefferson Fiscal Court.

The honest farmer who wants to keep a watch dog pays the tax, while the fellow who has no use for a dog and harbors a useless one fails to list and escapes the tax. We have promised to repeal the dog tax.

The last Democratic legislature was asked to pass a law to aid good roads in Counties like Ohio. It passed a law creating the office of State Road Engineer at a salary of $2,500 per year. Is that all. Yes that is all.

Last week the Republicans and Progressives by a union of forces carried the State of Michigan by a large majority. The Republican name and emblem was used with a Progressive platform. Let the good work continue.

Chief of the Weather Bureau Willis L. Moore has been summarily removed from office by President Wilson charged with serious irregularities in office. Prof. Moore was a Democrat and was appointed by Mr. Cleveland in 1895.

Louisiana cane growers are resorting long and loud against what they say spells ruin for their state in the passage of the proposed Democratic tariff act placing sugar on the free list. They should have thought of all this last November.

If the Confederate pension law is of doubtful constitutionality, why don't the State stop paying out salaries to appointees under that act? If it is dangerous to pay these old soldiers, is it not dangerous to pay any liability which the law creates?

The Ohio county Republican platform is a contract with the people to do and not to do certain things. No Democratic paper will let its readers see it, and numbers of them are sending to this office for copies. It will soon be issued in circular form for distribution.

Last week the Hartford Herald advised us against giving the lie to a brother editor, but in this week's issue of that sheet it refers to some matters which we printed as "unadulterated falsehoods." How soon some people forget their own advice, or perhaps they consider themselves privileged characters.

"Members of Congress from country districts report that their constituents are more impatient over the delay in turning out Republican postmasters than in any other attitude of the present Administration."—Owensboro Inquirer. And this from the newspaper which has been vilifying Bull Moose as "pie hunters."

Many farmers' wives who are making good money on eggs and chickens will feel the effect of a Democratic tariff before another year. All this is to be in the interest of those who live in the cities. Cheap eggs and cheap chickens and the farmer is expected to look pleasant and vote the Democratic ticket some more.

Wherever the Republicans and Progressives fail to get together they have the unqualified endorsement of the Hartford Herald. Ohio county Progressives have not forgotten how this same sheet abused them and sought in every way to discount them.

last year for not supporting President Taft. Of course it was only giving disinterested (?) advice then as now.

A chance remark in this paper last week concerning applicants for Federal jobs seems to have struck the tender spot over at the Hartford Herald office, where both the editors are applicants for the Hartford post-office. Now, we are for you boys, and we have often said that we hoped you would get all the Federal offices, and we are only sorry that there are not enough to go around.

"The rate of 10 per cent on cattle and sheep is a concession to the Western and Texas Democrats who are afraid of alienating their rural constituents."—Courier-Journal.

What? Is it possible that the Democratic Congress is fixing tariff rates with a view of effecting elections? Perish the thought. We have been told so often that their only desire is to save the people from being taxed to death by a "slobber tariff."

Query: If the price of American farm products is fixed in foreign countries, what is the reason for all this fuss and feathers about taking the tariff off cattle, hogs, corn, wheat, poultry, eggs, etc? The price would continue to be fixed in Europe. If, as the Democrats claim, the farmer is not benefited by having his products protected the consumer cannot possibly be helped by having the farmer stripped of protection.

"As a fine declaration of party principles, embracing the doctrine which was so popular in Ohio county last fall and to which it was so firmly attached only a few months ago will the Hartford Republican copy the resolution and principles set forth by the Progressives of Owensboro and Davless county? Let's watch and see."—Hartford Herald. If the Hartford Herald will publish in full the platform adopted by the Republicans and Progressives at their recent county convention, this paper to furnish the type already set, we will agree to publish the above statement mentioned in full conspicuously, although those statements of principles are in no wise in conflict with the principles at issue in Ohio county. Now come across, old boy, or back out.

THE PRESENT GAME LAW.

The late session of the Kentucky legislature attempted to put into effect the most drastic fish and game laws the State has ever known. To begin with a State Game Warden was provided for, with a fat salary, who in turn appoints a Game Warden for each county, besides a number of State Deputies. Recently a number of these State Deputies made a trip down Green River, armed with Winchester rifles and destroyed fish nets to the amount of several thousands of dollars, even going to the houses of the owners to procure the nets, which was without warrant of law and should have been resisted by the owners. The only result of all this interference with the rights of citizens of the State is to practically prevent the people living along these rivers from having an opportunity to purchase fresh fish. It will not increase the supply of fish in the stream, not in the least. The copperas water from the various coal mines, which empties into these streams is far more destructive to the young fish than the practice of netting. In the meantime, not being able to purchase fish, the citizens must be content to pay 20 cents per pound for beef steak, when they could have a change of diet to good, wholesome fish at 10 cents per pound. The fish law as at present maintained should be repealed.

OHIO COUNTY POULTRY.

Within the past two weeks Ohio county has again demonstrated how rapidly we are coming to the front in the matter of poultry raising. During that time, Mr. W. E. Ellis, the produce man of this city, has received and shipped to the Eastern markets about 150,000 pounds of poultry, at an average of 14 cents per pound. The sum of $21,000 is no small amount for this county when we remember that it will be repeated this fall. These shipments were made from Hartford, Centertown, Beaver Dam, Dundee, Olanton and Horse Branch.

The egg product taken in connection with these sales would run the total up to something like $100,000 per year. When it is remembered that it is comparatively a short time since farmers began to regard poultry raising as a money producing business this showing is remarkable, and should open the eyes of our people toward an avenue of escape from the tobacco bondage, under which they have rested for so many years. Raise something which may be eaten and which is necessary. As long as beefsteak retails at 20 cents per pound it should not be a difficult matter to get 15 cents per pound for chickens. Our people are fully abreast of the times in the matter of securing fowls with the purest blood and with greatest record for yielding both eggs and big weight. Many orders have gone off this spring for the most expensive eggs to be found.

EVIDENCE OF KEENDISAPPOINTMENT

"The Bull Moose rid the elephant." The Bull Moose is trotting along under the elephant's ears.
"The Bull Moose has the bots." "The Elephant has the bots."
"Fusion failed in Muhlenberg county."
"Progressives are standing firm in Davless county."

"Ohio county is almost alone in the middle or Western section of the State in the matter of fusion."

"The ears and trunk and tusk are the Elephant's. Will some Ohio county Progressive or Republican please explain the political genealogy of this strange looking animal."

"As an emblem under which the alleged Republican ticket of Ohio county be placed at the final election, we would suggest the picture of an elephant with moose horns. Such a design would come nearly covering the case."

"The Mooers of Davless county boldly declare that they will not sell their political birthright for a paltry mess of office postage."

"We prefer that Davless county should run our affairs in Ohio county if they could only prevent fusion."

"If the Bull Moose would only hold fast to well defined doctrine and the Republicans would put out a separate ticket in Ohio county, it would insure a Democratic victory next November."

"Now you Republicans watch us belabor the Bull Moose, and stand aside where you can't hear and we will entertain the Bull Moose by some of our vile abuse of you and the Elephant."

"Every county in the State in which the Bull Moose and the Republicans fail to agree to get together this year will have nothing but soft words and high sounding praise from us."—The Hartford Herald.

Preaching service will be held that day at 3 o'clock p. m. and just after preaching the business of the conference will be taken care of. All the stewards are urged to be present with their reports. There will also be preaching at Goshen Sunday April 20, by the Presiding Elder, Bro. Thompson.

There will be regular preaching services at Hartford. I thought there would be no morning service at Hartford, but there will be so you may come out to the service here if you do not wish to go to Goshen.

Are Beginning to Wonder.

The number of protests against the Free-Trade policy being received by the Democratic members of Congress from members of their own party is causing them much uneasiness. As the time draws nearer when the Democrats are to inaugurate their low Tariff law many Democrats who have been prospering so well under the present Protective Tariff policy are beginning to wonder why they ever voted for a return of the low Tariff like we had in the gloomy days of the nineties.—Boonville (Mo.) Medical Society Presents Plan.

Hartford, Ky., April 14, 1913.
At the regular meeting of the Ohio County Medical Society held in Hartford, April 3d, the following preamble and resolution was offered and after some discussion, it was ordered published in the Herald and Republican, so that it might be considered by the entire profession and the public before being finally acted upon by the Society at the next regular meeting in Beaver Dam on Thursday, May 1, 1913, at 1 p. m.

Inasmuch as the National, State and county governments, with the press and every worthy medical man, are striving to prevent disease, and with considerable success, without, however, the medical man being compensated in a financial way for services rendered, and further, we give a great deal of advice, personally and over the telephone, that is appreciated, but not ordinarily charged for. On the other hand, many attempt to treat themselves rather than consult their physician, either through fear of his charges or imposition upon his time and knowledge. Now believing that there should be the closest and most intimate co-operation between the doctor and patient, to the mutual advantage of both, we offer the following resolution:

That any physician may offer his office advice and telephone consultation to those of his patrons who prefer it and their immediate family, for $1.00 per month or $10.00 per year, payable in advance; the service to include minor surgery in office but not to include medicines, surgical dressings nor appliances, the doctor agreeing in any given locality to render free service for each other when the patient's physician is out of town, &c. This will entitle the patron to have a sanitary inspection of his premises at least once a year and be advised as to drainage, heating, ventilation, water supply, or any advice to protect family from sickness. Of course this is not to affect charges for visits to patients, major surgery or when a general anesthetic is used.

We hope this may be a start toward an ideal relationship and the Society courts your free discussion of this matter with your family physician.

Respectfully,
B. F. TICHENOR,
E. W. FORD,
Committee.

Japan Makes Protest.

Tokio, April 15.—Japanese official circles are now inclined to the belief that nothing they can do will have any effect in averting the projected land ownership legislation of California. As soon as the bill has passed, however, application will be made to the Federal Government of the United States for an extension of naturalization rights to the Japanese. Otherwise the bill, it is claimed, will be a discrimination against Japan.

Public meetings of protest and representations to the American embassy here have been innumerable, but the feeling of hopelessness is pronounced. The newspapers call attention to the "humiliating insult to a nation which, though high spirited and proud, has gone out of its way to maintain the most friendly relations with the United States."

Lion Skin Meets Lion.

Kansas City, Mo., April 15.—Cleve Brown, an actor who has been donning the skin of a lion in a sketch founded on the "beauty and the beast" tale, narrowly escaped death last night at Kansas City, Kas.

Brown, in his animal makeup replaced on the stage a real lion that is shown to the audience. The change is made by a trick shift in the scenery by a keeper at a signal. The helper pulled the lever too soon and Brown was tumbled to the stage with the lion.

The real lion seized the intruder. Out of the skin backward to safety went Brown, but not until he was severely injured by the animal's claws. Brown will not be able to assume his role for some time.

Friedmann Says Money Is Not Prime Object.

Certain That Virus Will In Time Stamp Out Disease.

Washington, April 14.—Dr. F. F. Friedmann, the Berlin tuberculosis specialist, was given a most cordial reception here today. He came to attend the Gridiron dinner, where he shook hands with President Wilson, and met for the first time Surgeon General Blue, Director of the Public Health Service. The two sat together throughout the dinner and discussed informally the results to date of the German savant's test in this country.

Dr. Friedmann told the correspondent that he might accept an invitation of the Washington University Hospital to try his treatment at that institution. He said further that if Surgeon General Blue wished him to demonstrate the treatment at any of the Government hospitals here he would be glad to do so.

Government officials would not say whether Dr. Friedmann would be asked to make official tests here at this time.

Before the Gridiron dinner the specialist was the guest of President Thomas of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, at the Cosmos Club. He said he had not been invited to make any test in that city.

Dr. Friedmann announced that he would rather turn his treatment over to the hands of the Federal Government than to any private institution or concern.

"I should be glad to consider any proposition," said he, "but I would much prefer to receive one from the Federal Government. I believe that with the means at its command the treatment would be much better distributed."

It is not a mere matter of money with me. I am not obliged to hasten my return to Berlin, although much work now awaits me there. I might remain in this country long enough to supervise application of my remedy while others are learning how to administer the treatment."

Asked whether he thought his remedy would in time wipe out the dread disease, Dr. Friedmann replied with emphasis: "I am absolutely certain it will."

If the visitor should make tests here for the Government subjects will be picked from volunteers already confined in the Government hospitals.

Unless asked to remain, Dr. Friedmann expects to leave here tomorrow for Providence, R. I., whence he just came.

Deserted by Parents.

Lexington, Ky., April 15.—Deserted by inhuman parents, a six-year-old white boy was found by Probation Officer Short and others in a dingy, cheerless room at 670 West Short street today.

The cries of the abandoned child attracted the attention of a neighbor.

The child was scantily clad and bore marks of privation and suffering.

When brought before County Judge Scott and questioned, the child stated that his father and mother left the city at an early hour this morning, going to Tennessee, he supposed, leaving him to his fate. He said his parents would send him out on Mondays, as thinly clad as he was, to beg food and money in the streets or from house to house for them, and that if he was not as successful as they thought he should be, his father would beat him. Examination of the child's body disclosed marks which evidently had been made with a strap.

Matchbox Basis for Divorce

Los Angeles, Cal., April 14.—Because her husband insisted that she should not burn more than eight matches a day, and a box of matches, therefore, should last sixty-two days, Mrs. P. E. Cornwell, wife of a clergyman, took an empty match box into court, and attempted to obtain a divorce on the strength of an inscription on the box.

The Cornwells remained man and wife, however, the decree having been denied today.

Inscribed on the box, in Cornwell's handwriting were his views on economy, with particular reference to the use of matches.

The Republican-Progressive Platform.

First.—We endorse all the steps which have been taken by the County Republican and Progressive Executive Committees, leading up to and including the call for this convention to formulate a platform upon which candidates for the various county offices and member of the House of Representatives are to appeal to voters of Ohio county for support at the coming November election, under the Republican emblem, believing that it is best for those who may enter the General Primary to know what may be expected of them in advance, and fair to the people of the county to know just where their candidates stand, upon all questions of public interest.

Second.—We favor rigid economy in the conduct of all the business of the county to the end that taxes may be reduced to the lowest possible rate, realizing that we are burdened by the present high taxes, State, county and town.

Third.—As a matter of economy and in the interest of a better business system, we favor placing the fiscal affairs of the county in the hands of a commission to be composed of three persons to be chosen by the voters from the county at large; believing that the finances of the county can better be handled by a smaller number of men, who can be chosen entirely with their business qualifications in view. Under this arrangement the office of Justice of the Peace would not be detracted from, but its powers for usefulness in the maintenance of order in the various magisterial districts would be far greater.

Fourth.—The office of county assessor should be abolished, and the duties of that official performed by men chosen by the County Board of Commissioners, for each magisterial district.

Fifth.—The people of Ohio county deserves better roads and we pledge the candidates who may be nominated upon this platform if elected, to exercise their utmost powers to inaugurate a system which shall bring about this desired end in the speediest and best possible way.

Sixth.—We pledge our hearty support in behalf of every effort to improve our schools, for better buildings, more perfect sanitary conditions, a course in agriculture for every high school, and an agricultural experiment farm located in the county.

Seventh.—Our sympathies are with the farmers in their efforts to obtain better prices for their products, and especially do we sympathize with the tobacco growers of Ohio county and pledge them our support in their efforts to maintain an organization, whereby they may secure a just reward for the toll given by them to the production of this crop. We realize that the struggle is an unequal one and if necessary, we pledge them our support to secure Government aid in maintaining public warehouses, through which they may hold their tobacco until the buyers see fit to accord them fair treatment.

Eighth.—During the last twelve months the county has been impoverished and actual suffering has been brought about among the coal miners on account of slack work, charged, to the failure of the railroad to furnish sufficient cars. In order that this evil may be remedied we pledge our candidate for member of the House of Representatives to support a measure enlarging the powers of the State Railroad Commission and making it the duty of said Commission to require all railroads to furnish a sufficient number of cars, without discrimination, to handle the output of coal promptly, that the miners may have steady work, and we also pledge our support for any other wise measure, having for its object relief from this intolerable situation.

Ninth.—We condemn the present Democratic administration of Kentucky for its extravagance through increase of salaries, creation of countless, needless offices, and enormous appropriations which have resulted in the largest State debt in many years, and which is sure to require an increase in taxation through some form. We condemn it for its passage of the Confederate pension bill and its refusal to pay these men, many of whose claims have been proven for months, under the pretext that the bill is unconstitutional, although having appointed officials under the act, who are drawing their salaries. We condemn it for its failure to place the Penal Institutions of the State under a non-partisan commission; refusal to pass a workman's compensation act; a corrupt practice act; and for lowering the school per capita. We also condemn the unanimous tendency of the State officials, from Governor down, to play politics, by looking ahead for some other job, instead of looking after the vital interests of the people of the State, whom they are sworn to serve.

Tenth.—Our candidate for member of the House of Representatives, who may be nominated upon this platform, should be selected by the people in the final election, is instructed and pledged to vote for the following laws:

A measure embodying the initiative and referendum.

The recall for all State, District and County officials.

An amendment to the Primary Election Law, providing for the election of delegates to National conventions, and for the selection of all party committeemen.

An amendment to the Primary Election Law, providing that where there is only one candidate of any party at the close of the time limit, the selection may be made through that party's committee.

An amendment to the Election Law, permitting any candidate to have the benefit of the votes of all parties which may support his candidacy by having his name placed under more than one device upon the ballot.

The repeal of the odious registration certificate law, which in every election has made easy the corruption of the ballot wherever certificates are required.

A measure prohibiting the use of money, with which to corrupt voters, and disfranchising any one who may sell or buy votes.

A corrupt practice act.

Workman's compensation law.

Repeal of the hunter's tax.

Repeal of the dog tax.

Abolishment of many needless offices created by the last session of the legislature.

A measure reforming the taxing system of the State which will place the burdens of taxation where they properly belong, instead of upon the men who own small homes and visible property, not easily evaded in the assessment.

A law giving the people of Kentucky equal advantages with those of the States North of us, by compelling the railroads to give us the benefit of 2 cents per mile passenger rate.

Upon all other matters not specifically mentioned herein, our candidate is directed to vote in the interest of progress, and for the general welfare of all our people.

Upon this declaration of principles the members of this convention pledge their hearty support to the candidates who may be nominated at the general primary election, first Saturday in August next, under the Log Cabin, for the various offices to be voted for in Ohio county at the coming November election.

Respectfully submitted,

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Mrs. Jane Callehan suffered from womanly trouble for nearly three years. In a letter from Whiteville, N. C., she says: "I was not able to do my own housework. My stomach was weak, and my blood was wrong. I had back-ache, and was very weak. I tried several doctors, but they did me no good. I used Cardui for 3 or 4 months, and now I am in the best health I have ever been. I can never praise Cardui enough." It is the best tonic, for women.

Counting Its Chickens.

There is to be another Congress election one year from next November. The Democratic party is very rashly counting its election chickens of 1914 long before those eggs are hatched, or even laid. Certainly if the Democratic party does not, as it has pledged itself to do, and as it now tries to do, lower the cost of living for American people before the next Congress elections, it will not have the legislative power to enact the measure that would give us free sugar three years from now, unless the Republican party and the Progressive party will continue their suicidal war against each other—and no man has the right to expect such a continuation of that war indefinitely.
